

1968

GLEN ECHO

One last and lonely leaf upon the bough,
Suspended like a solitary tear,
Which holds fleeting time for one brief moment
To recall the joys of the bygone year.
But let that lonely leaf fall,
And brush away that solitary tear,
Lock up the many memories
And look on to the coming year.

Dedication

"Let's not get into personalities!"

Dear Mr. D.,

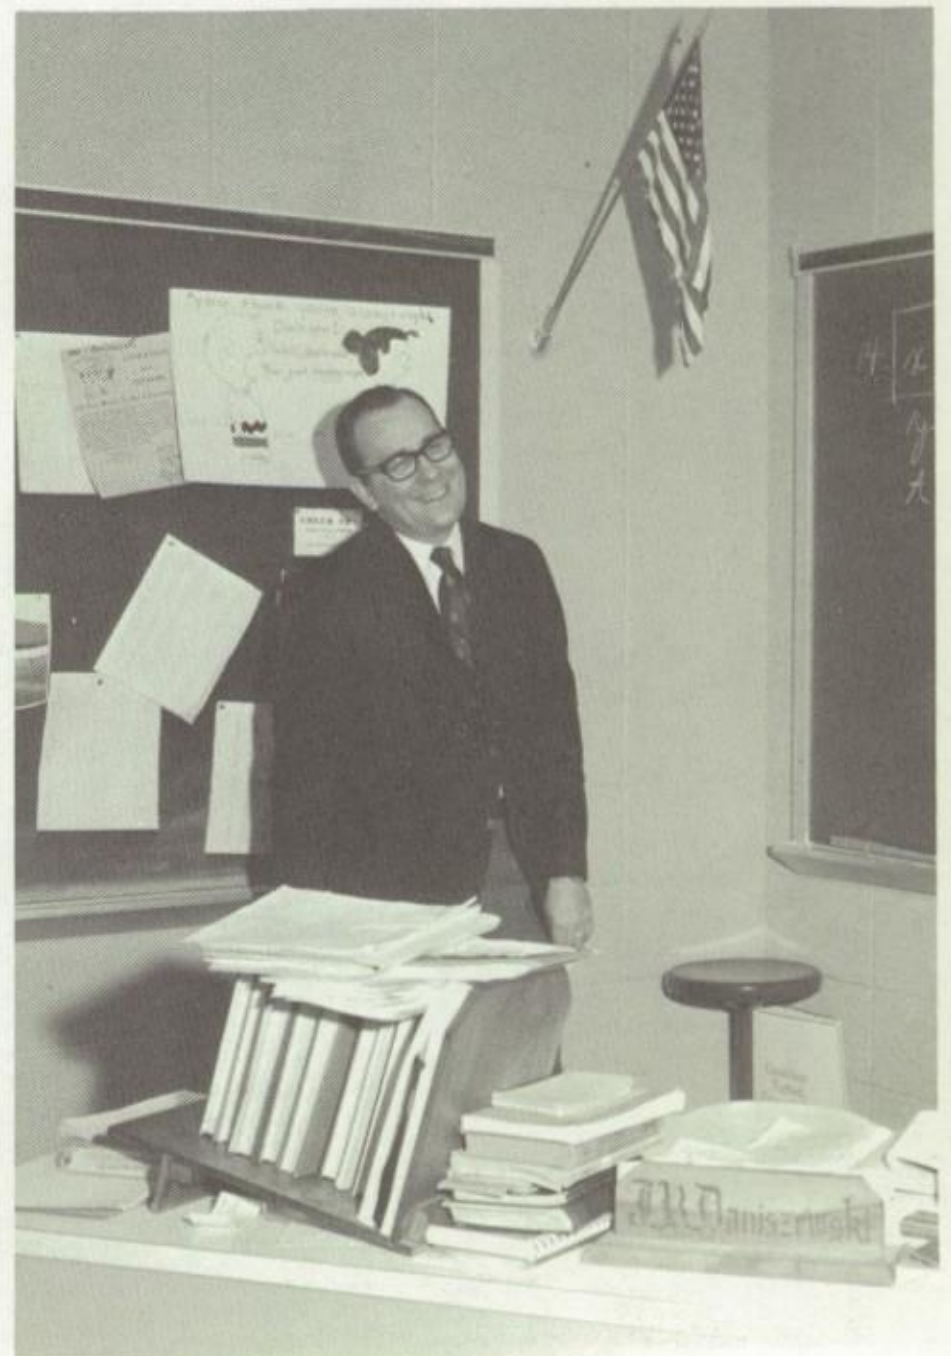

At its best, this dedication is inadequate in expressing our deep gratitude for your leaving in each of us a small part of you. At times it may have seemed that we were fighting you all the way, but we, "The First, The Last, The Best" are truly thankful that you held out until we realized that you were right.

You pushed us when we were lazy, held us up when we were about to collapse, encouraged us when we felt like crying, and shared in our joys as though they were your own.

Your place in our lives will never be filled by another, and although others may take out position as seniors and as your students, we know that no other class can really take our place in your heart.

To you we want to say a simple and heartfelt "thank-you."

"To Sir With Love"
The Class of '68

"I'll squeak the chalk as much as I want to!"

To The Graduating Class:

Congratulations to the class of 1968. You may all sigh and smile with a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment.

Another important phase of your life is over. Many people share in your success—your parents, friends, teachers and the community. Your spirit and enthusiasm, individualism, creativity, and accomplishments at Thomas J. Corcoran have been many. Corcoran will be a better place because you have been here. As a new principal I will keep a special place in my memories for you, my first graduating class.

I am certain that you will prove yourself in advanced schools, colleges, jobs and professions that follow. I hope you will always have the courage of your convictions—show concern for the dignity and rights of others—that you dream the impossible dream and are able to meet life's challenges; and that the world becomes a better place because you are here.

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of 1968 at Thomas J. Corcoran, of the city of Syracuse, in the county of Onondaga, and the state of New York all being of sound mind and memory do make, publish, and declare forever this our Will and Testament in the manner following:

- I, Bronwyn Adam, leave my size 13½ C.B.A. ring to an underclassman with a fat hand.
- I, Linda Adams, leave my ability to talk to some quiet junior.
- I, Frank Agosh, leave all my books to people who want them.
- I, Paula Agostini, leave all the boys to other girls.
- I, Sharon Alama, leave Adelphean in good hands and my Vikette uniform to any other girl with the shape of an eggplant.
- I, Linda Alexander, leave Mrs. Kendricks another "me" to chase.
- I, Donna Allen, leave Corcoran to always be with Mike.
- I, David Anderson, leave all my American History A.P. notes to any student fortunate enough to be taking that course in the future.
- I, Kathy Annese, leave all my forged passes to whoever wants them.
- I, Anita Arrington, leave to Roberta my place in Walter's harem.
- I, Norman Auffhammer, leave gladly.
- I, Greg Baird, leave the injuries I have received in football to a healthy junior.
- I, Stephen Baker, regret that I have but one life to dedicate to Corcoran.
- I, Christine Balestra, leave my green gymsuit somewhere.
- I, Bernes Ballard, leave nothing to Corcoran and never to return.
- I, Robert Baron, leave quietly without question.
- I, Denny Barrow, leave my gym locker and sneaker with a hole in it to any junior that can untie the knot that I put in it, but watch out for the centipede caught in the spider web above my locker.
- I, Gerry Bartlett, leave to Marti Harrauld the best of luck in her two years left at Corcoran.
- I, Roseanna Basarab, leave Corcoran with "Winna".
- I, Grant Bassett, leave with a certain senior girl.
- I, Michaeline Basto, leave hoping to keep the guy I left with.
- I, Denese Battle, leave to M.F. the thoughts that I will continue our long walks and getting in late.
- I, Bonita Beach, leave the gregarious trees at the bottom of the bunny slope at Greek Peak to Mr. Macko.
- I, Gary Beagle, leave everything I own, which comes to a total of 26 cents, to a girl in Lafayette, who is known as Duchess.
- I, Edith Becksted, leave to my younger sister my beauty, my wit, and my modesty.
- I, Bruce Bedell, leave.
- I, Peggy Bednarz, leave Corcoran with hopes it will be heated someday.
- I, James Bell, leave my George of the Jungle body to some underdeveloped junior.
- I, Stephen Bell, leave some of my ability to get along with other people to Joanne Cannon.
- I, Stephen Benz, leave my seat in any room to students who belong in straight jackets.
- I, Sandra Billo, leave my Esther Williams bathing suit and great feeling after swimming to some deserving junior.
- I, James Bird, leave to the junior class a wonderful building to learn in.
- I, Paul Blake, leave my body to be hung in Corcoran's hall and my head to be put on Mr. Lang's desk.
- I, Ray Blaskiewicz, leave all my empty beer cans in Elmwood Park to the Junior Class.
- I, Jim Boicourt, leave my comb to Whip.
- I, Mary Ellen Bolen, leave still trying to grow.
- I, Colleen Boles, leave, just leave!
- I, Barbara Boog, leave to all soccer enthusiasts a great team of junior guys.
- I, Thomas Bowden, leave my three years of experience in French II to some deserving sophomore.
- I, Linda Bradley, leave all my responsibilities to some other sucker.
- I, Kathy Broader, leave my immense popularity to Robin Jackson.
- I, Jacqueline Brown, leave to the future students of Corcoran my great business math ability and the teacher.
- I, Jean Brown, leave the mocks I got from the gang about "pupper nut" to some poor neglected junior.
- I, Susan Brown, leave my 12 X book to a junior who had better be brilliant.
- I, Julie Bryant, leave behind me many great memories, friends and go with the hope of a bright future ahead of me.
- I, Susan Burian, leave all my clutter and confusion to some organized junior.
- I, Jim Bush, leave my guitar, harmonica, and Dylan albums to an upcoming hippie senior.
- I, Christine Bushnell, leave to join Tim.
- I, Christine Cain, leave my laugh and specs to a deserving junior.
- I, Kathleen Campbell, leave my American History book and all that goes with it to a very brave junior.
- I, Lorry Campfield, leave my fantastic mind power to anyone who wants to fail.
- I, Richard Canavan, leave my dirty gym sneakers to Dawn, and my old worn out spark plugs to Chad W.
- I, Della Cannon, will leave my good work in bookkeeping to Phyllis Dean.
- I, James Cappon, leave Corcoran hoping the future classes will work to better our name as much as the Class of '68 has.
- I, John Carden, after serving my 3 years, have escaped!
- I, Susan Carnahan, leave my bottle of Clairol's "Irish setter Red" to a blond who is tired of having more fun.
- I, Steve Carr, leave the football team with the dreadful call of Mr. Chadwick: "Alright, everyone on the line."
- I, Francis Caruso, leave Mr. D in peace to scratch his poor old head without any wise cracks from me

- and my great laughing ability and sense of humor to any quiet junior.
- I, Juanita Champagne, leave willingly to join Kathryn, Pat, and Diane in Miami with fondest memories of the good and bad times we've had at Corcoran.
- I, Keith Chatterton, leave John Moriarty my fire and desire and my ability to fire out.
- I, Joan Chesley, leave my books.
- I, Robert Chestnut, leave my artistic flair to R.D.
- I, Bruce Clark, leave, leave, leave.
- I, Donald Cleary, leave to to a needy junior my blue book of original excuses.

Brigadoon is a musical set in a magic village in Scotland. It comes to life every hundred years and disappears after a single day. Two American adventurers find Brigadoon on a day when a wedding is to take place. The old village schoolmaster tells the story of Brigadoon to Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas. In 1747 a miracle happens which permits the village to hibernate, except for one day in each century. The miracle would cease, however, if any native leaves.

The Thomas J. Corcoran chapter of the National Honor Society consists of 72 members. The goal of the chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in Corcoran students. Members are inducted on the basis of satisfactory scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Sophomores must maintain an average of at least 90%, juniors an average of at least 88%, and seniors an average of at least 85%.

In the fall the Honor Society attended a District 10 Conference held at East Syracuse—Minoa. They also participated in the State Conference at Cortland. At the end of the year a $100 scholarship is awarded to a deserving senior. The soft drink concession at basketball games and the Senior Class play were the chief fund raising projects.

"Brigadoon" Presented In The Highlands Of Corcoran

Twenty-four hours ago, "Brigadoon" had yet to become a reality. Last minute chores were taking up the time of all involved and the backstage frenzy was at its highest pitch.

The school day ended, and the activity in the auditorium increased tenfold. Tension mounted as curtain time approached, and the final preceeding 60 minutes brought a near capacity crowd to the only acoustically perfect auditorium in this area. The ability of the cast to overcome stage-fright was easily seen, for the ease in which they handled themselves was, from the beginning, highly professional. This relaxed atmos-

The QUILL is Corcoran's student newspaper. Its staff consists of about thirty students, with Miss Palmer as their adviser. Different students work on different stages of its development. Students print their results in the school print shop under the supervision of the shop instructor, Mr. Robinson. Fourteen issues are expected this year with an additional senior issue in June. In the first part of the school year, students or teachers can subscribe to the QUILL for one dollar. Otherwise, there is a cost of ten cents per issue. School activities and recent events are found in the QUILL. Regular columns such as Inquiring Reporter and Fashion news are found in each issue. The co-editors-in-chief are Steve Wolniak and Robert Watson; Circulation Exchange: Pat Polletto; Sports Editor: Alfred Walker; Assistant Sports Editor: Jim Tormey; Typing Editor: Stan More; Photographer: Doreen Boone; Art Editor: Felix Cochren; and Advertising: Pat Bruneni. Others work on reporting, typing, or printing.

returning to the lights of New York City, in the spring for the seventh. The plot is unique, yet wonderful, and the music is fantastic. The setting is in Scotland, and is centered around the events which few views remain. The show is remarkably professional, a lot of the way through. The mere one dollar admission is very reasonable indeed. The effort will be there, and so will a good show. Will you?

Student Council

President: Dave Woodall
Vice-President: Pat Matthews
Corresponding Secretary: Kathy MacLaren
Recording Secretary: Linda Mahler
Treasurer: Linda Bradley
Sergeant-at-arms: Al Walker

The Student Council started out this year with a dance on September 22 and plans to sponsor more. The main event of this year took place on May 10th and 11th with the State Advisory Board Council meeting at Corcoran. This was a meeting of the executive board of the State Student Council.

AFS

Each year the American Field Service acts as an exchange for thousands of young people throughout the world. It provides an opportunity for students to learn about the language and customs of other countries. Corcoran's AFS student this year is Eiko Ito from Shimonoseki, Japan. Her subjects this year include: English, Am. history, math 13, and home economics. She is staying with Dianna Loesch and her family. This past summer we were represented in Italy by David Linehan. The family he stayed with acquainted him with the Italian way of life. Before returning home he traveled throughout Europe with other AFS students.

Projectionist Club

The Projectionist Club, advised by Mr. Otis, takes an active part in assisting and training teachers in the use and care of the audio-visual equipment. The twenty members are led by Richard Germain, president; Jerome Owens, vice-president; and Diane Osborne, secretary.

The International Relations Club is an organization open to any Sophomore, Junior, or Senior who is interested in learning more about foreign countries. Throughout the year the IRC participates in various projects. In April a delegation is sent to the Auburn Community College Model General Assembly, and in the spring Corcoran plays host to exchange students who participate in the annual AFS day. The club's adviser is Mrs. Good. Officers include: President, Sue Carnahan; Vice-President, Llewellyn Oler; Secretary, Helen Williams; Treasurer, Kathy Piirak; and Exchange Student, Eiko Ito.

IRC

Pep Club

This year's officers were: Sandy Billo, Secretary; Astrid Gerlach, Treasurer; Bron Adam, Vice President; and Sharon Alama, President.

This year's Pep Club, advised by Mrs. Fogarty, has tried to support and boost the general athletic spirit of the school. In a large school as this, strong spirit is needed for all phases of sports and activities for a worthy representation of the students. Pennants were sold along with buttons, shakers, and football passbooks. A new charter and a Constitution were written. Also, a permanent scrapbook was started to keep a current record of pictures and articles. Contributions were made to the athletic funds.

This year's Newsbowl team finally surged into first place as a result of its well-earned victory over the Central Tech Newsbowl team. This was the Techmen's first loss in three years, and if Corcoran can keep up the record of excellence so far achieved, it has a good chance of becoming the city champion. The team is advised by Mr. Doty and Mr. Holl.

Newsbowl

Latin Club

Corcoran's Latin Club, Romani Hodieri, resumed activities this year with a new advisor, Mr. Redmond. The Latin Club has continued its affiliation with the National Junior Classical League and hopes for a successful and active year. This year's officers include: Jerry Marsh—President, George Mallia—Vice-President, Patricia Lee—Treasurer, and Sue Humphrey—Secretary.

The Corcoran Chess Club is open to all students interested in learning how to play chess or to those who would like to improve their game. The president of this club is Charles DeRusso and the advisor is Mr. Sarazin. The Chess Club was fifth out of twelve schools in the city tournament. They plan to enter the state tournament this year.

Chess Club

Living Science

The L.S.M., located in a corner on the third floor, is devoted to the study of the natural sciences, under the direction of Mr. Hoag. It is valuable to the science faculty as a teaching aid, and is helpful to students in perfecting skills they will use in later science studies. Many interesting exhibits, encompassing different areas of the world, have been staged. The museum members are responsible for the Guest Lecture Series presented periodically in the auditorium.

Museum

Library Club

The goal of the Library Club is to assist the professional staff in the administration of the library. The members help to keep the shelves in order, process new books and magazines, and aid in the book circulation. One of the events of the year was a faculty tea held to introduce new faculty members and to show new materials to the teachers. The officers for the 1967-68 year are: President, Jim Woodworth; Vice-President, Doris Woods; Secretary, Carol Reed; and Treasurer, Shirley Forties. The adviser of the club is Mrs. Mindnich.

FTA

The Future Teachers of America are interested in investigating teaching. Several Conferences are attended each year, including the annual Carrier Conference. This year the State-wide FTA Convention was held in Syracuse and the chapter had much to do with the preparations. Other activities include observation of classes at Roberts School, Student Recognition Day, Parent's Night, student tutoring, and an orientation program for prospective Corcoran students. President: Cindy Romocki, Vice-President: Margaret Gere, Secretary: Valerie Demore, Treasurer: Marcia Gere, Historian: Nancy Warner, Advisor: Mrs. Federman.

President: Bernie Gadek, Vice-President: Bob Dawley, Secretary: Gloria Rizzo, Treasurer: Bob Watson, Advisor: Mr. R. Przewlocki. The aim of DECA is to give students an opportunity to put into practice the theories they have learned in retailing classes. Some of the club's activities included running the school store and selling candy after school. Representatives were sent to the State DECA Conference at the Concord Hotel this year.

DECA

FNA

Future Nurses is a newly organized club at Corcoran this year. The club's activities include helping with the Christmas Seal project, field trips to medical facilities, and guest lectures. Scholarships are available to senior girls.

Advisor: Mrs. Dumas, President: Dawn Tangredi, Vice President: Charmaine Woods, Secretary: Shirley Forties. The Red Cross Youth organization sponsored the United Campaign collection of last fall. Members also do volunteer work at the Veteran's Hospital.

FSA

Future Secretaries of America urges all members to join in their city-wide monthly meetings with the National Secretaries Association International. Activities of FSA include a Christmas paper sale and "Secretary for a Day." In May the annual banquet was held, at which time a Miss Future Secretary was selected from one of the 5 city-wide chapters. Officers are: Julia Bryant, President; Deborah Scholtz, Vice-president; Marilyn Fortino, Secretary; Diana Scoffield, Treasurer. Advisors to this group are Miss Frearey and Mrs. Van Scoy.

The purpose of the Future Homemakers of America is the betterment of community and home life through the sharing of ideas and experiences. Future Homemakers of America consists of approximately twenty girls. The advisor is Miss Miller.

THE AUTUMN NOVICE

When, during far-flung hand-fuls of October,
The unseen silver fingers turn, quietly, our lens —

When . . . in months of movements passing eyeward,
Love, death, and we are colors woven into friends.

The words of many mystics, my candle, dead,
rekindling,
Tell me of your love, a tree branch, sighing with no breeze.

My guru, sitting still amidst the festive days
disrobing,
Does not yet speak, but still I know the constancy he sees.

One day we will learn the art of swimming in his river,
Without regard for falling leaves, pretending they're the end —

When, during far-flung hand-fuls of October,
The unseen silver figures turn, quietly, our lens.

— Doug MacDonald

Reflections, the student literary magazine, exists as an outlet for creative expression and includes original writing and art work. The editors (and every member is an editor with equal rights and responsibilities) gather informally to evaluate works to be considered for publication. The staff plans to put out three issues during the year. The advisor to Reflections is Mr. Phippen.

Pi Omicron

The Alpha Chapter of Pi Omicron is in the process of adapting its constitution to TJC, since it started at OVA as the original chapter of the organization in the United States. Some of the purposes of the club are to tutor students in need of extra assistance and to sponsor a scholarship to be awarded on the basis of a qualifying exam. Officers this year are: Helen Williams, President; Steve Wolniak, Vice-President; Llewellyn Oler, Secretary; Bob Mellor, Treasurer. Advisors are Mrs. Blessed and Mr. Chesnic.

Student Marshals

The Student Marshals were inaugurated last year as student patrols for the seventh period dances. The program was so successful that it was decided to continue it during regular school hours. This year the Student Marshals have taken the place of corridor guides under the supervision of organizer, Mike Dailey, and advisor, Mr. Creme.

Girls' Voice

Girls' Voice, with approximately thirty-five members is directed by Mr. Sidney Novak and accompanied by Nancy West. They performed at evening concerts, school assemblies, and for service organizations.

Boys' Voice

Boys' Voice, with a membership of approximately fifteen boys, is directed by Mr. Sidney Novak and accompanied by Christina Balestra. They performed at evening concerts, school assemblies, for service organizations, and competed in the Barbershop Quartet Contest.

Mixed Chorus

Approximately seventy students comprise the Mixed Chorus under the direction of Mr. Sidney Novak. Most of the members are sophomores who are being trained to sing in the Advanced Chorus next year. The accompanists are Maxine Summerhill and Deborah Marsh.

Approximately sixty students comprise the Advanced Chorus under the direction of Mr. Sidney Novak. Only juniors and seniors who have sung in one of Mr. Novak's other choruses are invited to join. The group performed at Open House, the Christmas Concert, and the Spring Concert. They also sang Christmas Carols at the Marine Midland Bank and presented a concert version of the opera "Carmen." The accompanists are Michele Koury and Nancy West.

Advanced Chorus

Band

The Concert Band, with approximately eighty-five members, is under the direction of Mr. William Bishop. They marched twice during the school year and performed at Open House and various school concerts.

Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. William Bishop, is an exploratory group that works on reading the best music available for a group of their size.

Orchestra

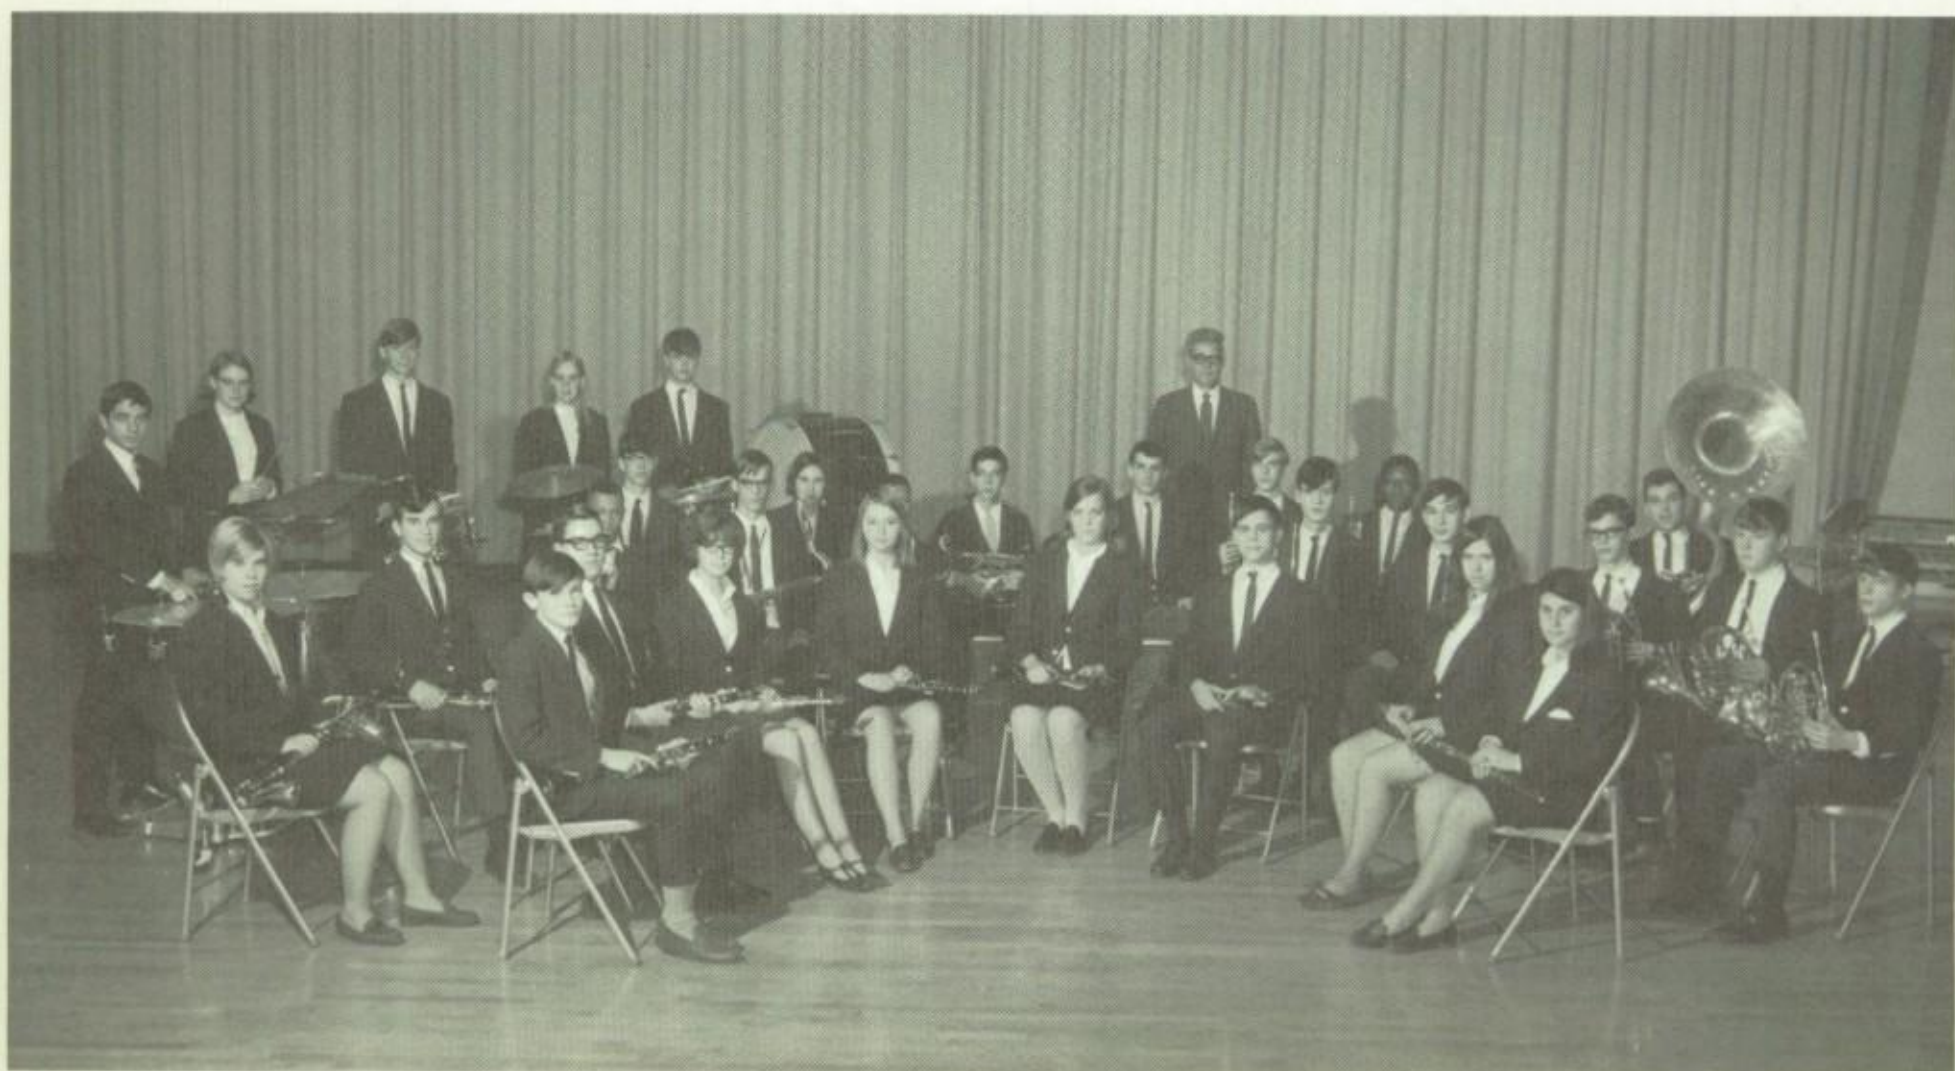

Dance Band

The Dance Band, under the direction of Mr. William Bishop, is made up of twenty of Corcoran's most talented musicians. They have performed at various school concerts and at outside functions during the school year.

The Wind Ensemble is a group of approximately thirty talented musicians under the direction of Mr. William Bishop. They play contemporary music that is beyond the high school level and have performed at school concerts.

League record 10 and 4 — second place

*League games

Corcoran, who lost only 4 league games, with a break could have won the league. The second place Cougars placed 6 of its members on All-City teams. They are Dave Bengtson, Bob Golden, Leonard Smorol, Joe Starowicz, and Jim Wallace.

Coach Southworth is optimistic about his 1968 team, with Seniors Joe Starowicz, Richard Fox, Jim Tormey, Mike Perry, John Palladino, and Steve Carr leading the way. The team has a good 24 game schedule. With these boys, and some promising juniors, it should be a good year.

The Academic Awards Assembly

Thank you to our art editor.

"Instead of this, could Sandy Bigtree sing again?"

For a job well done . . .

"And here's one for the person with the most number of censored articles in the 'Quill' this year."

"Nobody would have known that this was Laurie Joncas if we hadn't put it in the year-book."

Pep

"I forgot what I'm supposed to do next!"

Fest

"Hey, Barbara, walk over and see if the kids are awake."

"Calm down Martin, you're shaking the whole table!"

It's

"It's a nice round number anyway."

"Lone sentry"

In General . . .

"I've been sitting here for 10 minutes and it hasn't moved yet."

"Wow, it went right through his arm!"

"Now let's see what's in his other pocket."

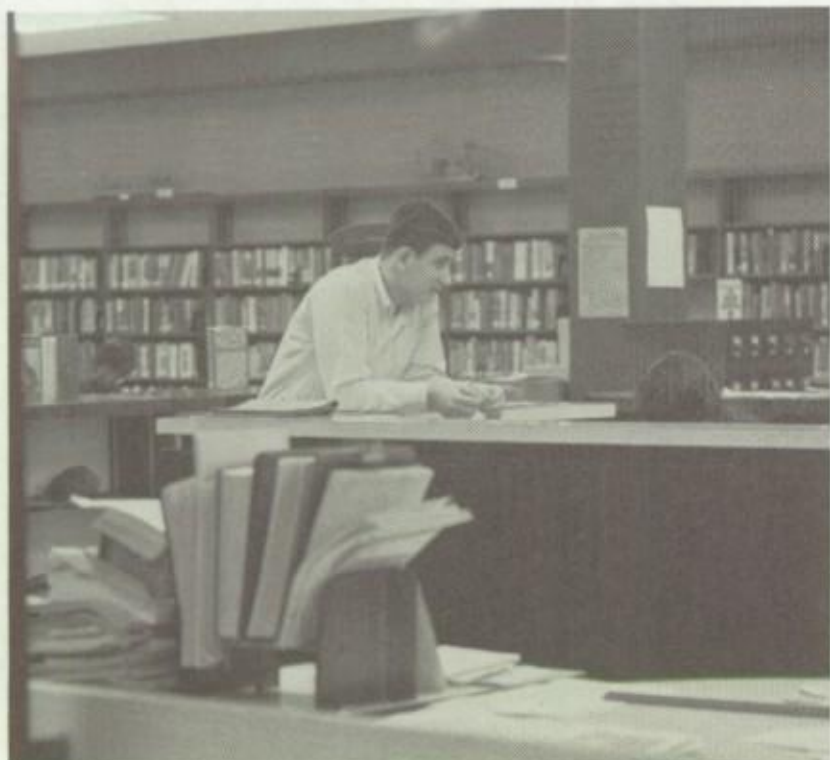

"Wash it off and it's as good as new."

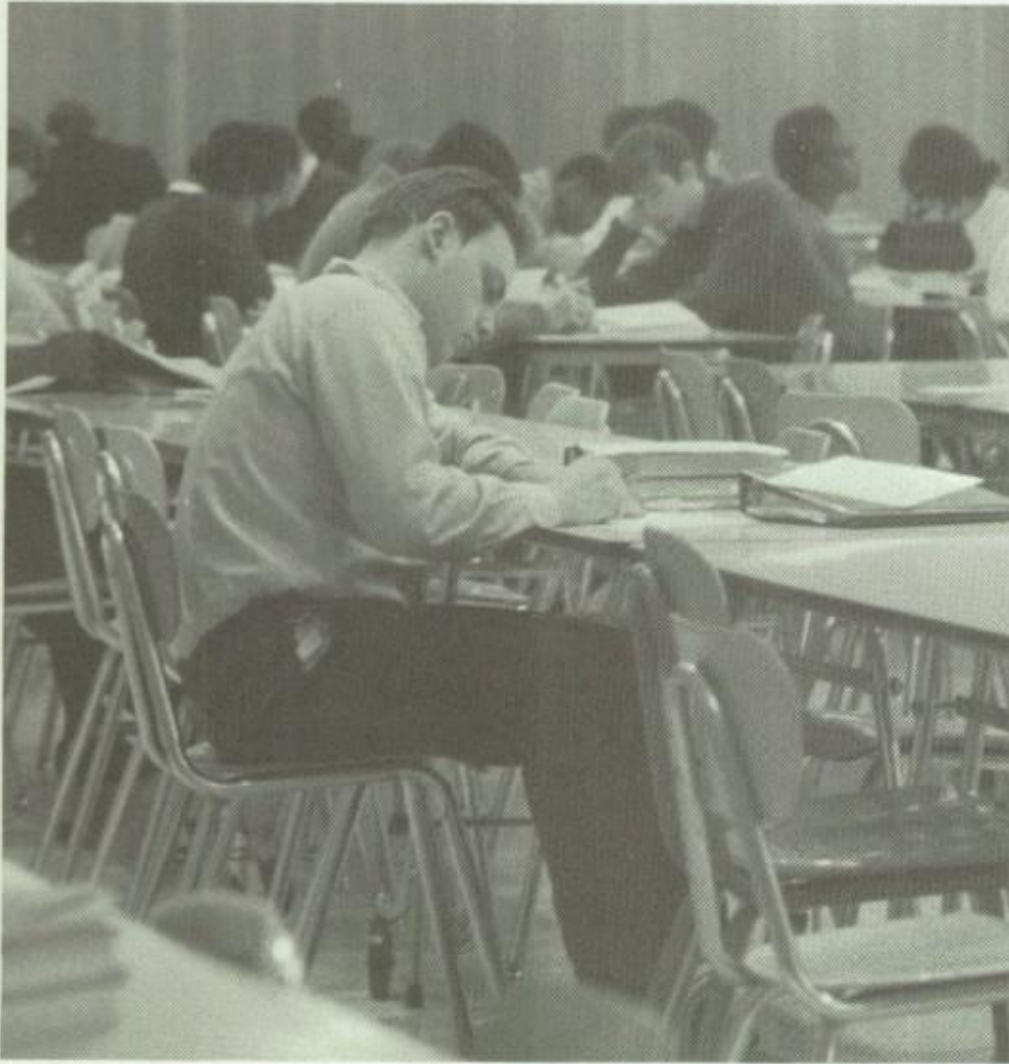

"It's the first time I've ever seen a wooden head on a snowman!"

"That was our 15th suspension—we've filled today's quota."

"Does anyone have change for a nickel?"

This is a rare photo of a Solvay bus escapee.

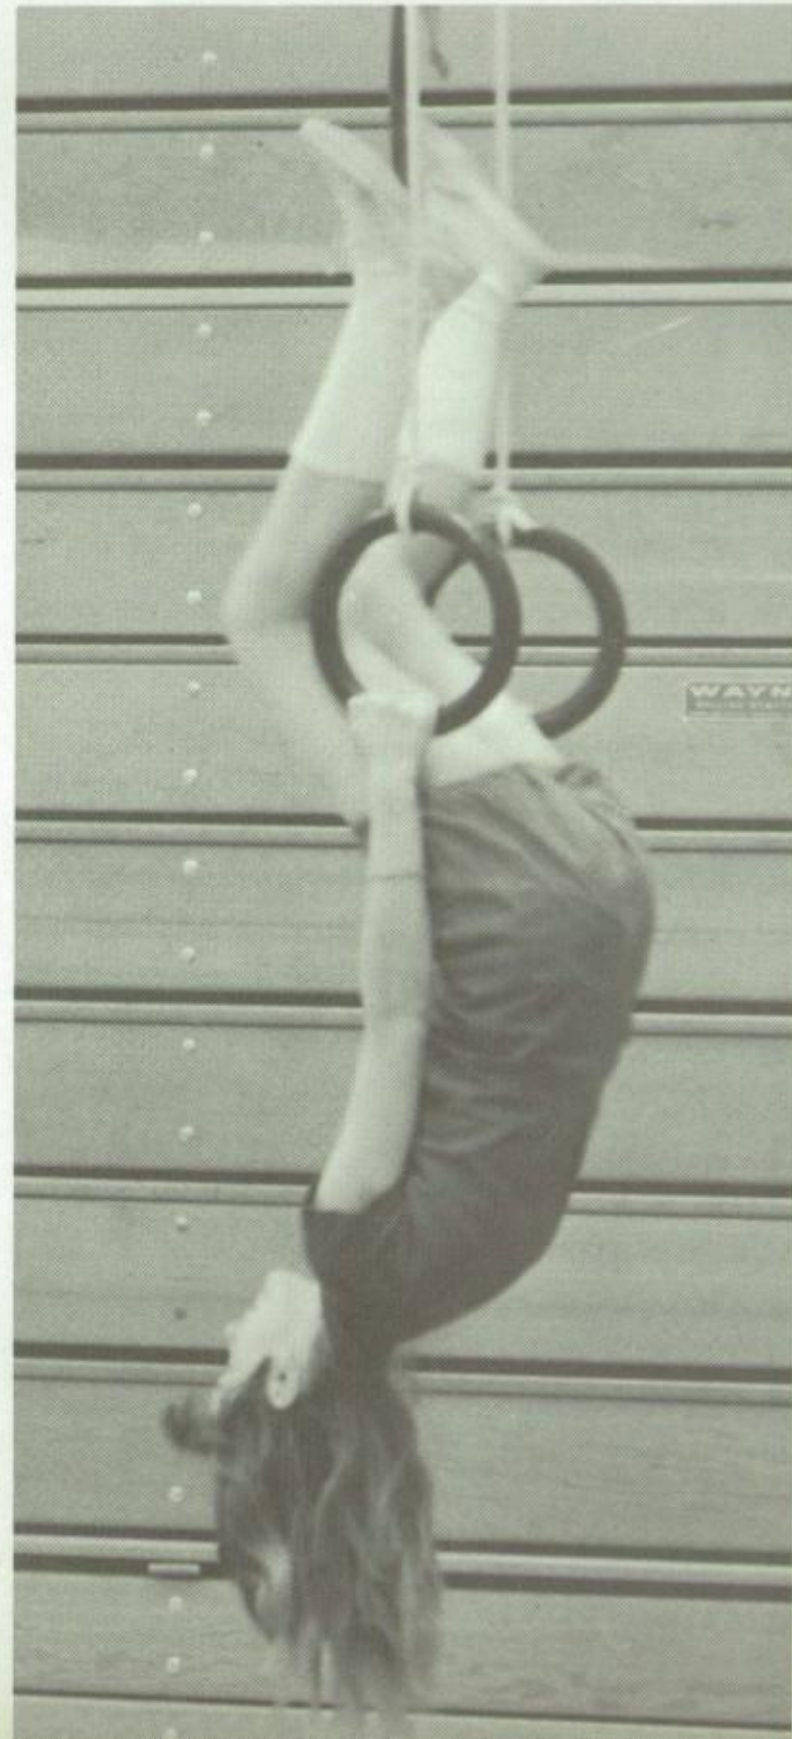

"The fly in my soup had more meat on it than this lambchop has."

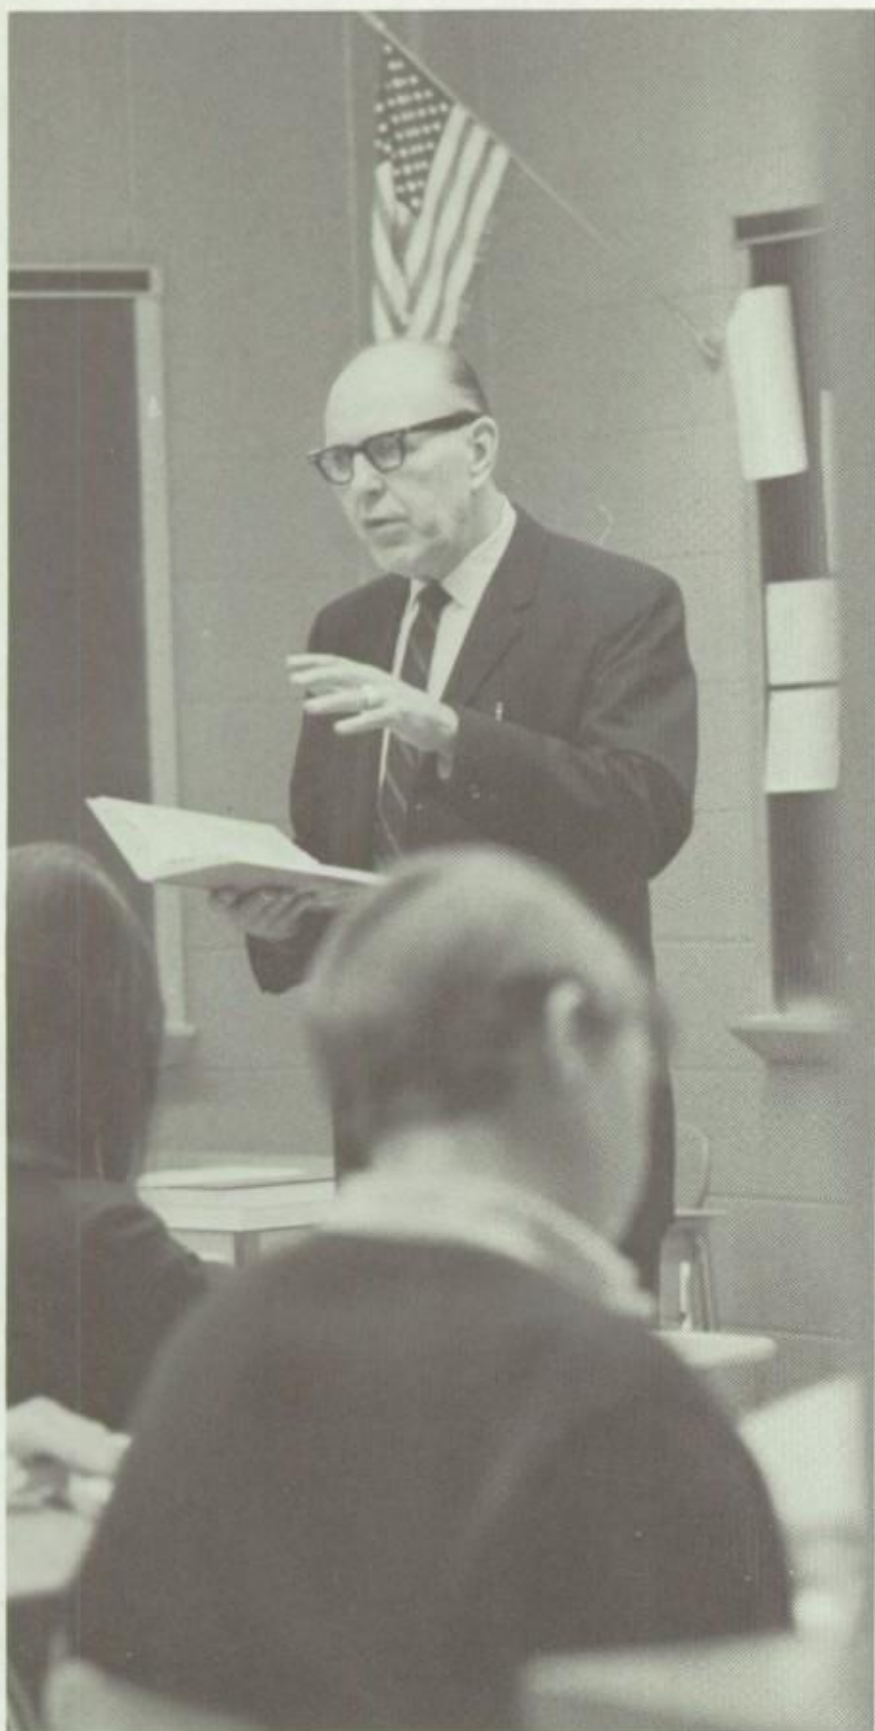

Solitude

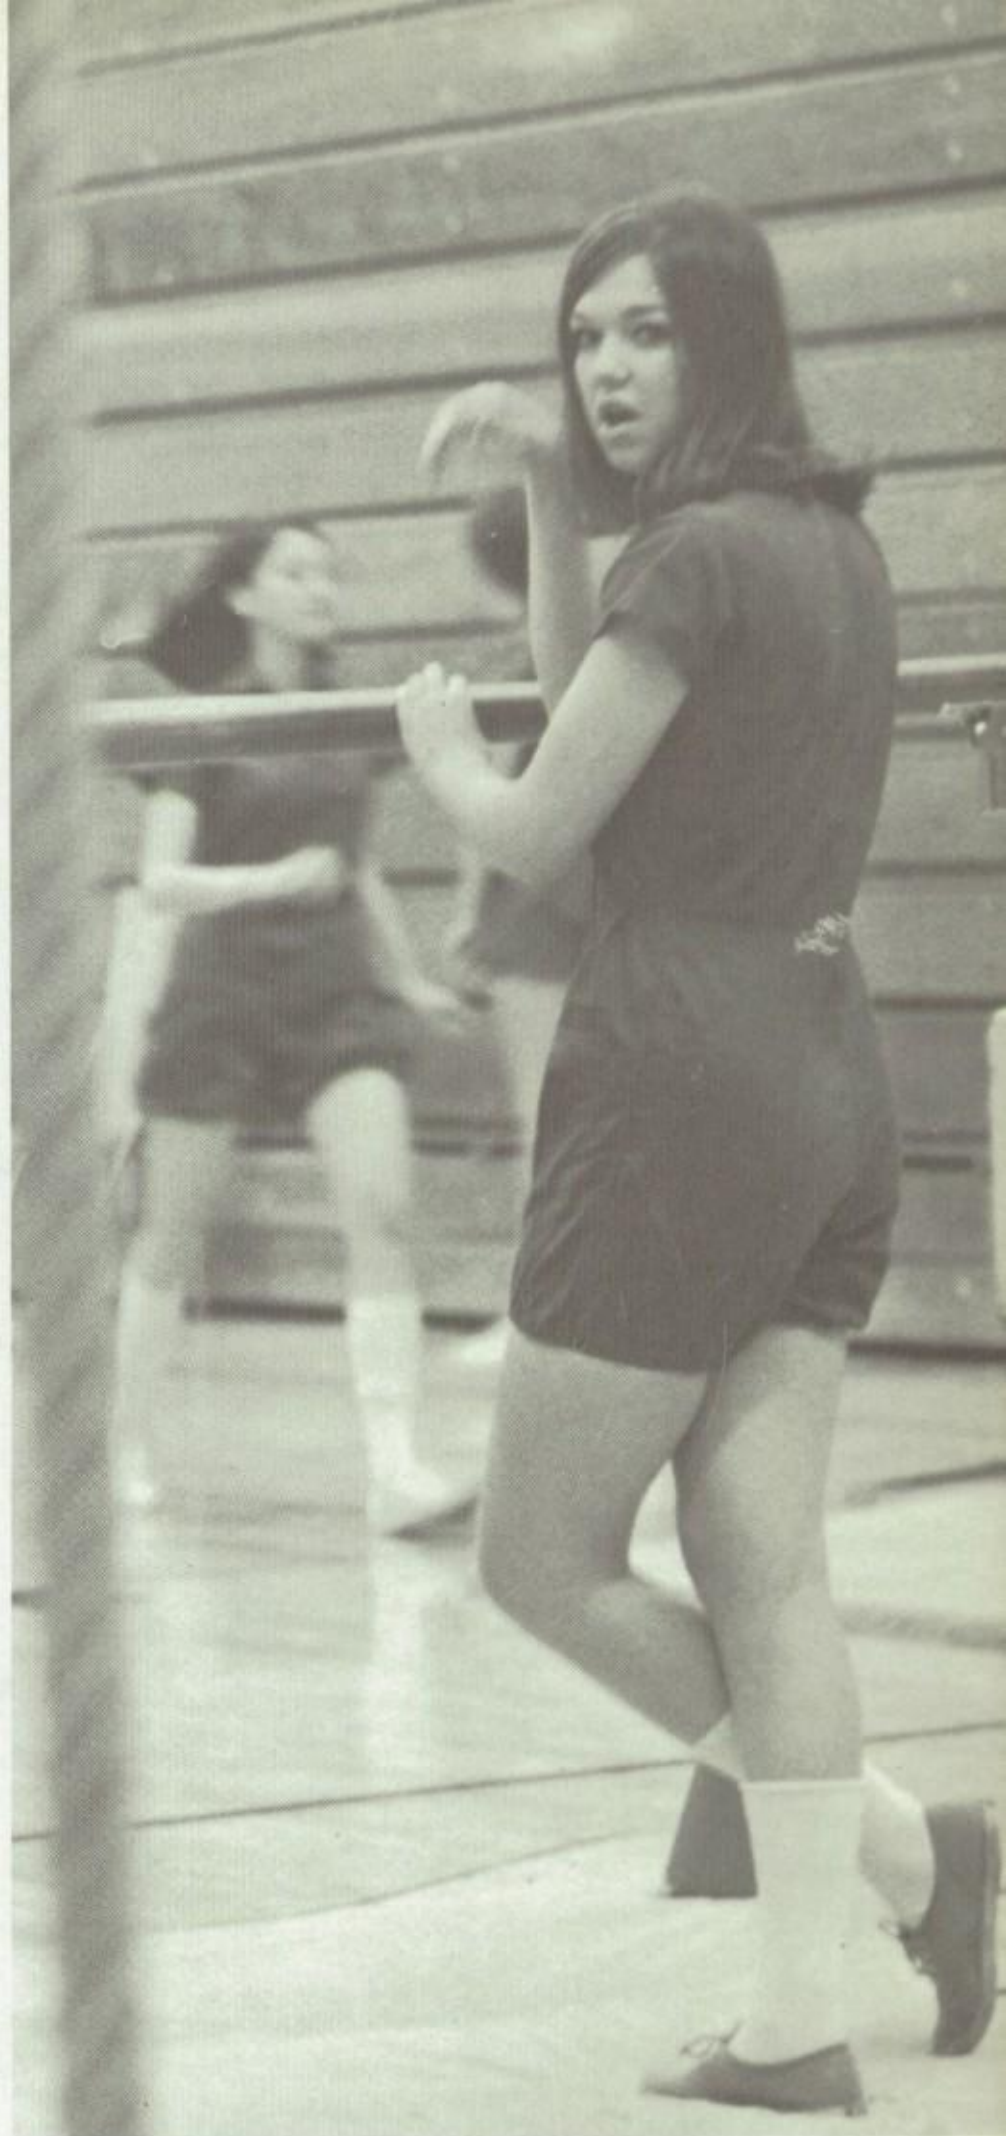

"Mom always said that I would have some hangups, but this is absurd!"

"Once upon a time ..."

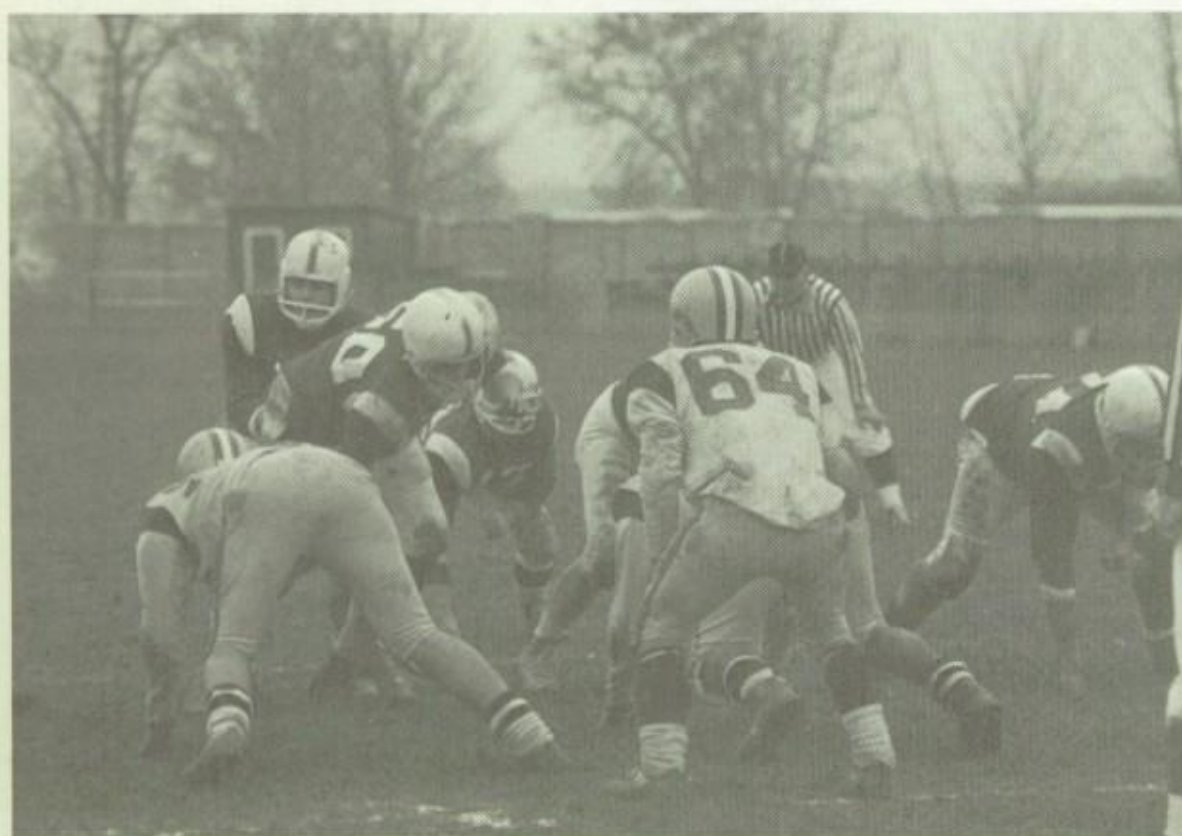

Femininity personified in a Corcoran gym suit.

Our Thanks To —

Alma Mater

Oh, Corcoran's maroon and white
Will wave beyond our time
The pride we feel rings loftier
Than all the poets rhymes
What other school majestic towers
Join hands o'er crystal stream?
What greener woodland frames a poem
With knowledge as its theme.

Thy scholars mold the age beyond
Inspired by thy brave truth
Thy noble light will guide us still
When past our days of youth
When traveling our future course
Uncharted but fate,
We'll yearn to tread again the ground
Our youth did consecrate.
